For over 30 years, John H. Brown has skillfully guided hundreds of business owners through the most important financial (and emotional) transaction of their lives: the exit from their companies.

Working with real owners in a variety of situations to test and refine his theories, John constructed the Seven Step Exit Planning Process™ that he first described in his seminal work on Exit Planning, How to Run Your Business So You Can Leave It In Style.

The overwhelming response to John's book from both owners and their advisors launched John as a public speaker, thought leader and highly-sought expert in the fields of exit and succession planning.

For more information, go to www.exitplanning.com or call Wendi at 717-951-9581..

This seminar will focus on

- Exiting a business on the owner's schedule
- Achieving personal and financial goals during and after business ownership
- Timing and elements of the planning process
